Stuart Singer is the Vice President of Schneider Optics Inc., the US subsidiary of the Joseph Schneider Optische Werke GmbH located in Bad Kreuznach, Germany. Schneider is a well known design and manufacturing company of high-performance industrial lenses. Prior to being Vice President of Schneider, Stuart was the Technical Director of the corporation for 10 years.

Prior to joining Schneider in 1994, Stuart managed the Optical Engineering & Optical Fabrication Departments at Loral Fairchild Systems in Syosset, New York, with emphasis on the design and fabrication of optical systems for Space and Defense. Stuart has authored numerous optical engineering articles for many of the Optical Societies (SPIE, AIA, OSA, SMPTE, OSLI) in North America and has also taught Optical Engineering tutorials at these societies over the last 32 years.

Stuart is a "Senior Member" of the SPIE Society of Optical Engineering. He was awarded with the 2012 Technical & Engineering EMMY Award.
